Since 2012

ACCOLINK

Accolink was established in 2012 to sell and market high quality kitchen utensils produced in Turkey in the international market.

Shortly after its establishment, it has been understood that there is an increasing demand in the developing hotel and restaurant sector in the domestic market for the products represented in order to offer them to international customers.

Adopting the principle of responding to all the demands of its customers, Accolink has added kitchenware, preparation equipments, bespoke presentation equipment, high quality consumables and in-room products to its product range over time.

We attach importance to offering a variety of products to our customers. Instead of limiting the demands, we “eliminate the limits” for our customer.

Suitable for Induction Cookers

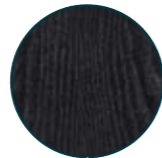

An electromagnet located just below the ceramic surface of the induction hob generates a magnetic field. When the right pot is placed on the stove, the metal body of the pot heats up by taking energy from this magnetic field. So that the heat is not on the surface of the hob; it is produced directly in the container above it

SOLID WOOD OPTIONS

Walnut Wood

Walnut solid panel can be in a wide range from light brown to dark brown, and in our country there are more dark tones AVAILABLE. Some types of walnuts may be gray, purple or reddish in color. The veins are usually straight, but can also be irregular. It has a medium texture and a natural shine.

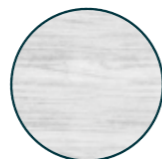

Black Lacquer Wood

Oak Wood

After a tree is cut down, the solid and pure wood that is produced by cutting and processing the raw wood without any coating or filling is called solid wood. Unlike artificial wood types made by compressing adhesive substances, solid wood consists entirely of natural wood fibers

White Lacquer Wood

Chestnut Wood

The chestnut solid panel has a light brown color with reddish-brown overtones as the chestnut tree ages. The "Wormy Chestnut" variety of chestnut tree has a holey structure.

Cherry Wood

Cherry is a hardwood tree species with a narrow outer ring of heartwood. Its pores are scattered and coarse during spring growth, but fine during autumn growth. Its annual rings are distinct. Cherry trees create straight or wavy grain patterns, but the grain pattern is not very pronounced

Olive Wood

The olive tree, scientifically known as Olea europaea, is a species of tree from the Oleaceae family. It is known for its edible fruit and is traditionally grown in the Mediterranean climate.

Beech Wood

They are deciduous forest trees that lose their leaves in the winter. The branches have pseudoterminal buds with two rows of spiral-arranged lateral buds. The large, sharp-ended, needle-shaped buds are covered in many scales and are arranged in a way that makes an angle with the branches and their meanings

ICONS

Porcelain Product

Porcelain is a material produced only from raw materials of natural origin. It gets its whiteness not from the dyes used, but from the raw materials used; It is hardened by firing at around 1400 °C; It has light transmittance and is a healthy product.

Stoneware Product

Stoneware is a fairly broad term for pottery or other ceramics COOKED at a relatively high temperature. A modern technical definition is a vitreous or semi-glassy ceramic made primarily of stone clay or non-refractory fire clay.

Ceramic Product

After clay undergoes a certain production process, it becomes a hard and non-deformable material that is not easily affected by any external influences except for some special factors.

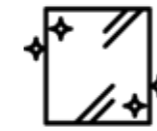

Melamine Product

Melamine is made of a chemical compound that is organic-based that can only be dissolved in water, which is a long-lasting material that is hard to break due to its structure and can be used for years. It has a flame retardant and heat resistant structure.

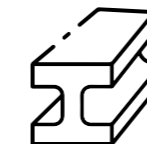

Acrylic Product

It is a plastic glass with colored and colorless varieties. It could be both Transparent and semi-transparent. It has a light plastic structure that can be easily processed, cut and drilled. It is softened by heating in an oven at 90 °C or 90 °C - 115 °C.

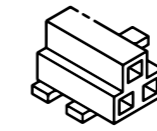

Glass Product

Glass, transparent or translucent, usually hard, brittle, solid material of inorganic amorphous structure that allows the containment of liquids. Glass has been used both as a construction material and as an ornamental item since ancient times.

Stainless Steel Product

Stainless steel is defined in metallurgy as an alloy of steel obtained by adding a minimum of 10.5% to 11% chromium. Stainless steel does not corrode or rust and does not leave water stains on it like ordinary steels.

Iron Product

Iron is the chemical element with the symbol Fe and atomic number 26. Iron is the fourth most common mineral on the earth's surface and the most abundant metal in the earth's crust. The liquid core at the center of the Earth is also predicted to be a single iron crystal, but more likely to be an iron-nickel alloy.

Cast Iron Pots and Pans

The most important feature of casting products is that they do not contain chemicals compared to similar cooking aids on the market. In addition, they are both long-lasting and the contribution they will provide to the dishes you will make will indisputably be at the highest level.

Well-Polished

Wax is a wood polish obtained by dissolving paraffin, ceresin, montana and beeswax in turpentine or naphtha oil. It is one of the natural and effective methods used to protect and renew wooden products. It is common to apply by immersion method.

Natural Lubricant Applied

Naturally produced special wood oil does not contain any water or solvents and consists of natural ingredients. In this way, the use of the product is not only safe, but also does not pose any threat to the environment.

How to care for wood?

Kitchenware Oil VOC FREE - 1 Lt

Code — AC17471

- * Made with substances of natural origin - 100% Food Safe
- * Ideal for the treatment and care of wooden items previously treated with oil.
- * Covers 12 - 14 m² per liter, cares for around 150-200 pieces of wooden boards for every 1000 ml.
- * Makes the surface repellent to water and dirt

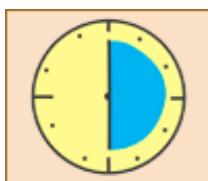

Method of usage

If the wooden piece is particularly smooth, sand the surface with sandpaper grit 180 (optional). Make sure the wood is dry and avoid of any dirt or grease. After cleaning, let the wooden piece dry on its own for at least 8 hours.

Stir very well the content of the can before and during use. Apply with a brush or a kitchen-sponge a suitable amount of oil in an even, adequate coat.

Wait approx. 20-30 minutes at 20°C as the oil penetrates into the wood. If necessary, sand the wood while the surface is still wet. Sand wet lengthwise of the wood grain with abrasive paper 320-400 grain.

Polish the wood carefully using a white polishing pad, which ensures a harder wearing surface. Repeat the treatment on highly adsorbent surfaces. Complete hardening after 24 hours at 20°C. Do not let the surface become wet during the hardening process.
